

INCLUSIVITY AWARENESS

Let us unpack Transformation

TRANS

In the context of "transformation," "trans" means "across" or "beyond," signifying a change from one state to another, like moving from one side to the other; essentially, a complete shift or transition in form or identity.

FORM

In the context of "transformation," "form" refers to the outward appearance, structure, or nature of something, implying that a "transformation" is a significant change in how something looks, functions, or is composed, essentially changing from one "form" to another; it signifies a radical alternation rather than just a minor adjustment.

ACTION

A deliberate act or step taken to significantly change or alter something.
